Jones	Benjamin	JONES - Mr Benjamin Howell Jones, C.M.G., died at his residence, Wednesday, Aspley Guise, yesterday. Mr. Jones was a well-known sugar estates proprietor of British Guiana. He came of an old Demerara family which owned Plantations Houston, La Bonne Mère, and Hope. After receiving his education in England, he went out to the colony and gained a practical knowledge of sugar cultivation and manufacture on Pln Farm, afterwards becoming attorney of the family estates. He was elected a member of the Court of Policy of British Guiana in 1880 and was senior member when the old Constitution expired in 1891. He was appointed to the Executive Council in 1900 and reappointed in 1905. Always zealous where the interests of the colony and its people were concerned, he served on many public commissions and boards, and was Commissioner at the first colonial Exhibition in 1886. Unlike many of the old school of planter, he was an ardent believer in minor industries. Mr. Howell Jones represented British Guiana at the last coronation and received the C.M.G. on that occasion. He retired from the colony last year, but intended to visit it periodically; and he was a staunch	1913	Feb	18
